FOREWORD

The St. Clair County Genealogical Society has since its humble beginnings in the summer of 1977, had as one of its objectives to record and publish the names of persons buried in the cemeteries of St. Clair County, Illinois. The painstaking job of recording headstones and cross-checking them with old cemetery and/or church records has been accomplished by dedicated members. Chief among these hardworking dedicated people have been the Co-Chairpersons of the Cemetery Committee - Elsa E. and Martha Mae SCHMIDT and in more recent years Sandi BENNETT.

The Board of Directors established a policy of producing cemetery lists in the Quarterly when the list was twenty pages or shorter. For cemeteries that take more than twenty pages, a separate publication is produced. Included in this publication and in each cemetery publication, is a list of all cemeteries known to be in St. Clair County, Illinois. For those that have been published in a SCCGS Quarterly, the Volume, Number, and page numbers are given. For those published as a separate publication the publication price is shown.

Because some of the SCCGS Quarterlies containing the smaller cemetery inventories are now out of print, in the future SCCGS will be publishing the inventoried cemeteries by Township.

If additional information related to the cemetery listing in hand is known, it will be published as an appendix. Each cemetery listing also includes an alphabetical surname index.

Care should be taken in using the listing as to cut-off dates. Persons buried in these cemeteries after the cut-off dates, of course would not be listed.

P R E F A C E

As early as the mid-1800's, the names of those who called Poland their ancestral home began to appear in the St. Clair County records. However, it would be almost a half century later before the ancestors of the modern day "Polonia" would begin to migrate to Southern Illinois. By the late 1890's, as the local Polish community continued to grow, so did the need for a Catholic Church to serve their spiritual needs.

The Polish community continued it's rapid growth after 1900. St. Adalbert Catholic Church was founded in East St. Louis in January, 1905, and a school was established two years later. St. Adalbert's was one of several 'National' Churches opened in the Illinois Diocese of Belleville.

In July 1914, land along the bluffs was purchased for a parish cemetery. The ground is located in the SW1/4 SW1/4 of Section 30 and the NW1/4 NW1/4 of Section 31 of Caseyville Township (T2N - R8W). A small portion of the cemetery is also in the NE1/4 NE1/4 of Section 36 of neighboring Canteen Township (T2N - R9W). The earliest burial is presumed to be that of Zofia Gontarek, age 2 ½ years, who died 5 Jul 1914, the same week the land was purchased. The original gravesites were sold for $2.50.

The parish was a focal point for the Polish community but closed in 1979 after the population of East St. Louis had declined. The local Polonia, the name given to those of Polish heritage living outside of Poland, are still a close knit group. A Memorial Day Mass is celebrated at the Cemetery followed by a brunch at the Polish American War Veterans Hall in Caseyville, IL.

St. Adalbert Cemetery sits on a quiet hillside in the southwestern edge of Fairview Heights near Belleville. Two pillars frame the entrance with the name of the cemetery given in Polish & English. Near the top of the hill is a large altar. Several priests are buried nearby.

Tombstones vary from lot to lot. Most stones are very simple, a few are more ornate. Occasionally there is just a family marker. Perhaps the most touching stones are those that appear to be handmade, possibly by a loving family member. Up until now, St. Adalbert Cemetery was one of the largest cemeteries in St. Clair County that had never been inventoried.

The first draft of this work was provided after Bill Jacobus had copied the information from the tombstones in 1993. Martha Mae Schmidt transcribed that first draft. In proofing that draft it became clear we had no idea of the "lay of the land". Sandi Bennett then took over this project and has spent the past 4 years in an effort to bring it all together.

Adam Wondolowski, president of the St. Adalbert Cemetery Association graciously loaned us their 20 year old original plat map, all 2' x 6 1/2' of it. This was very quickly copied & returned to the Association. A scaled down version, somewhat modified, is included in this book for reference.

A third draft was given to the Secretary of the Association, Ed Rakowski. There were still problems. The President of the Association then made a request of the lot owners to see if the unmarked grave information could also be released.

With their agreement, this became a joint project between the SCCGS and the Cemetery Association. Most cemetery records do not contain the genealogical data that may be available on a tombstone. The Cemetery Association Secretary will now have that information on computer. Other pertinent information from their records could be added, including deed information, burial date, mortuary identification, and vault and tombstone types, if desired. Even though I had access to some of the cemetery records, the names for reserved gravesites were not inserted, unless that name was already on a tombstone.

Over the next two years, records were gradually received resulting in yet another change to the original layout. All names on one tombstone were grouped together. They are now separated down to grave number. If the cemetery is walked, it is important to remember that the graves may not be in the exact order as they are in the book. In the family plots (Rows A, B, C, D, E, F, GN, GS, H, J, and K), the graves are grouped by lots (the letter/number combination on the first line of the right hand columns). The next line is the grave number. If a researcher is having difficulty finding a particular grave, please check the lot number first.

With the early rough drafts, there were many stones that contained only partial information. I had started researching some of those names at the Belleville Public Library, using the East St. Louis and Belleville newspaper obituary files. Many names were not appearing in local obituaries. This project then shifted to checking the St. Clair County Clerk's Death Record Index (up to 1942) available in the Library. It was discovered most of those people had died over a weekend or a holiday when the paper was not published. After the 1950's this was not as much of a problem. As this project comes to a close, it is estimated that 1,000+ names were researched. There are over 700 unmarked graves, a total of 2400+ entries (burials or additional names on tombstones), and at least 1035 different surnames (& variations) in the index.

INTRODUCTION

Every effort has been made to have all entries as correct as possible. There are missing or incomplete entries in the records, which were not always made in a timely manner. In addition to the official Parish register, the priest also kept the cemetery records during the early years. The actual date of entry into the cemetery records could depend on his busy schedule. Most local cemeteries agree that the 1918 flu epidemic caused a nightmare with their record keeping.

Variations in name spellings may have caused me to miss some entries in the various files. The County Clerk's records up to early 1915 also contained the cemetery location. This helped to locate several graves especially when a name variation appeared. Surname variations weren't the only problem. The cemetery name itself was also given as St. Albert, St. Alberta, Adelburg, and St. Adelburg. There were several entries through the years in the Court House records and newspaper obituaries where that name can't be found in the cemetery records. A list of those names is so marked at the end of the listings.

The phrase 'I don't care how Grandpa spelled it!' has even more importance when working with a different language. Pronunciation variations and accent marks will make it difficult for anyone not familiar with a language. Podraza and Przada are pronounced almost the same. The 'J' in many older names may now be a 'Y'. The letter 'Ł' may have been written as a 'T' or a 'Y' in later years. Several surnames begin with 'DZ'. Many of those names now begin with 'G'. The Polish language groups several consonants together. Names changed over the years by losing one or more of those letters. 'Szcz' may now be just 's' or 'scz' or 'z'.

For this inventory, the Cemetery was divided into four main areas. The first area (containing Rows B, D, E, F, GS, H, J, and K) is in the middle - or to your left as you drive around the roadway. Rows B, D, and E face roughly north, while Rows F, GS, H, J, and K face south, except on the hill. The Hill portions of the rows, all face roughly north.

The second area is the right side as you drive in. These are the Old Public Rows (S 1 - S 5). Grave # 1 is on the immediate right as you drive into the cemetery. This portion of Row S 1 stops with # 144 as you drive up the hill. The Row continues with Grave # 145 at the back of the South Rows, and roughly follows the property line. Check the map for reference points.

The third area with Rows A, C, and GN is to the left as you enter the cemetery, going up the hill toward the Altar. (PLEASE NOTE: the roadway is one way - counter clockwise).

At the immediate left of the gates as you enter the Cemetery, there is a gravel lane. This is the fourth area. Down that lane on the right are the New Public Rows (N 1 - N 4). On the left is the Children's Section, Y 1 - Y 4. Any researcher should refer to the map for the date sequences in this Section. This is a difficult section to follow because of the large number of graves and very few tombstones.

Except for the Old and New Public Rows, and the Children's Section, most of the grave sites were sold as family plots. They may contain 2, 4, or 12 graves. Checking the map will help a researcher identify grave locations.

The Row Letter identifications correspond to the Section letters in the Cemetery Association records. Lots in Sections A, B, C, D, E, F, and GN (plus Sections GS, H, J, and K all on the hill) contain 12 graves. For the most part, Rows A 1, B 1, etc., contain graves # 1 - 6. Rows A 2, B 2, etc., contain graves # 7 - 12. The book starts with Row B 2, or graves 7 - 12 in Section B, except for the first several graves.

Lots in the lower part of Section GS contain 4 graves. Graves 1 and 2 are in Row GS 1, # 3 and 4 are in Row GS 2.

There are several exceptions to the numbering system, Lots B-2, C-00, C-0, D-00, D-31, & E-0. Some gravesites were lost, to accommodate the curves of the roadway. Please consult the map for these locations.

As you read this book, the HILL portions of Rows F, GS, H and J may appear to be out of sequence (Row F 2 Hill follows Row F 1, and Row F 1 Hill follows Row F 2). However if you were to walk the cemetery from the end of Row B 2 towards Row K 2, the rows will be in correct order.

The following symbols have been used throughout this book:

@ = unmarked graves. These are the burials in the Cemetery records, & usually read 'bur. and the date'. If a death date could be found, that date was inserted in place of the burial date.

Curbing has been noted from the Cemetery records. If no headstone is on the site, it was still marked as '@'. Through the years, some of the curbing has been covered with soil and grass, or may have been removed in several places for safety reasons.

* = information not contained on a tombstone and/or not available in the Cemetery records. There were several entries in the Cemetery records with incomplete information. This added information includes ages if no birth date was available, or a maiden name. It may also note a correction when a wrong date is on the stone.

+ = several sites in the Children's Section that at one time contained a tombstone. There are approximately 275 burials in this section and only about 50 stones now.

The St. Clair County Genealogical Society would like to thank the St. Adalbert Cemetery Association for giving their permission to publish these records. A special thank you to Mt. Carmel Cemetery & Mt. Hope Cemetery, also, for their assistance. Several times they have researched their burials as we attempted to clarify data in the St. Adalbert records. Personally, I would like to thank my 'Computer Angel' who, after two computer crashes, saved me from having to retype all this data a third time.
